Will Dr. Doolittle Appear at Banquet?

Great Curiosity Manifest as
Father and Son Affair Draws Near.

HARMAN IS SPEAKER

Great curiosity is manifest among a large number of men and boys in the Borough as to whether the "push-me-pull-you" and other animals to perform at the annual Father and Son dinner of the Narberth Presbyterian Church on next Friday evening, May 8, are to be under the care of the genuine Dr. Doolittle or someone who impersonates him.

Naturally everyone is hopeful of meeting the famous Doctor himself, and since the impostor was last heard from in jail, it seems unlikely that the quack will appear—but then, one never can tell about anyone clever enough to successfully pass himself off for so brilliant and famous a character—such a

Mothers Invited to Club Meeting Tuesday

The Woman's Community Club of Narberth extends a most cordial invitation to the women of the Borough, particularly the mothers of babies and pre-school age children, to attend their meeting on Tuesday afternoon at Elm Hall.

At 3 o'clock Miss Mildred E. Martin, assistant director of Health Service of the Community Health and Civic Association, will explain the conduct of a health center, showing the part played by the volunteer workers, the nurse, the doctor and the child.

Following this Dr. John McK. Mitchell, of Bryn Mawr, who has conducted the Narberth Health Center so successfully ever since its inception, will speak upon the care of the pre-school child.

Borough Nine to Face Jack Hart's Collegians in Practice Game Tomorrow

Local baseball devotees will have their first opportunity to see this year's edition of the Narberth Baseball Club in action this Saturday afternoon at the playground. Manager Gene Davis has arranged a game with Jack Hart's Collegians, an aggregation of former college stars who are managed by the genial chaplain of the University of Pennsylvania. Gene expects to use this contest to give a thorough tryout to several of the new aspirants for the team.

Last Saturday's practice was unfortunately cut short by rain before Manager Davis had much of a chance to get a line on his candidates. The boys managed to get in a fairly long batting

Other attractive features are promised in addition to the show proper.

Hoover to Speak at Valley Forge Park

Isaac Pennypacker, of Ardmore, to Present Audience to President.

ON MEMORIAL DAY

To Isaac R. Pennypacker, of Linwood Avenue, Ardmore, chairman of the Valley Forge Park Commission, will go the honor of presenting the audience to President Hoover upon the occasion of his speech at Valley Forge on Memorial Day.

The invitation to the President to make the address was recently extended by Mr. Pennypacker, in company with a special committee of the Park Commission, consisting of the Hon. Richard H. Koch, president Judge of the Schuylkill County Courts, and Colonel William A. March, of Norristown. They were also accompanied by Isaac H. Clothier, Jr., of Radnor, a member of the commission.

The Memorial Day address will be made from a platform to be erected at the headquarters house of General Huntingdon on the parade ground of Valley Forge Park. It will be broadcast by the National and Columbia Broadcasting Companies over a nationwide hook-up of stations. Amplifiers will be installed to carry the President's address to all persons attending the ceremonies.

Approximately 50,000 people are expected to visit Valley Forge on Memorial Day, although the seating capacity is limited and has been exhausted in providing for the invited guests. The President will be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover and United States Senators Davis and Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Cabinet members. Congressmen from Chester and Montgomery Counties have been invited, as has Governor Pinchot.

The committee on arrangements consists of Judge Koch, Fred P. Hallowell, of Wayne, vice president of the Western Savings Fund; Isaac H. Clothier, Jr., and Colonel March. Dr. Ellis P. Oberholtzer, secretary of the English Speaking Union, and assistant

Wynnewood Seeks Ban on Real Estate Signs

Civic Association Would Improve Appearance and Foster Security.

DISCUSS STREET NAME

A campaign has been instituted by the Wynnewood Civic Association seeking the removal of real estate sign boards from properties in Wynnewood which are on the market.

In a letter sent out by the association to its members, arguments were cited which show the inadvisability at the present time of attempting to sell a property by covering it with "For Sale" signs.

The purpose of the movement is both to improve the appearance of the community and to foster the feeling among visitors that property values are secure.

A new map, street guide and residence directory, listing some 450 names, has just been issued by the Wynnewood Civic Association. Framed copies will be posted in the Wynnewood Station, Post Office and drug store.

The association decided to hold in abeyance the idea of seeking a change in name for Wynnewood Avenue, which had been discussed recently. Wynnewood Avenue constitutes a boundary street between Narberth and Lower Merion. Confusion often results from similarity in names, it was felt. A suggested new name for the street was Gypsy Lane, which is now applied to that portion of the road which extends beyond Montgomery Avenue.

Township authorities stated a petition would have to be presented before a public hearing would be held on the matter. Borough authorities stated that favorable consideration would be given to such a petition provided it indicated that the new name was desired by all or a large majority of property owners and residents on the Narberth side of the street.

It was announced by the Wynnewood Civic Association that the Pennsylvania Railroad has agreed to cut down the bank at the intersection of Penn Avenue and Wynnewood Road in accordance with plans prepared by the Township Engineer. This will increase the line of vision across this corner to about 125 feet and will greatly lessen the existing hazard.

Descriptive Wynnewood signs have been erected by the State Highway Department at the two extremes of Wynnewood, and the Civic Association has erected similar ones at the following locations: Wynnewood and Argyle Roads, Haverford and Remington Roads, Wynnewood Road and Wynnewood Avenue, Wynnewood and Sabine Avenues, Montgomery Avenue and Cherry Lane, Montgomery Avenue and Church Road.

secretary of the Park Commission, will act as secretary for this committee.

President Hoover will spend the previous night in Philadelphia, where he will attend the unveiling of a portrait of himself at the Union League Club. He declined to make a speech in the city.

Certain Opinions

Sometimes I long for George Jean Nathan's vocabulary and facility of expression so that I might give someone the equivalent of the controversial word in General Butler's broadcasts, without the person being cognizant of it.

If Jack (Legs) Diamond can survive a few more fusillades he should become a national legend ranking with Billy the Kid, if not Jesse James.

However some benefits are accruing from "the times." It is freely reported that a number of rackets have been so hard hit that quite a few bootleggers, etcetera, are deserting their clientele for legitimate vocations.

Sunday movies and debates, indulged in for twenty years in Great Britain, are now permitted by an act of Parliament. The State of Pennsylvania might well make a similar gesture, since we can scarcely afford to fall behind in liberty the nation from whose oppression we long since freed ourselves.

Americans are in comparative degrees of danger in revolutionary movements in Nicaragua, Honduras, Cuba, other points south and in China. King Alfonso is at present an exile in France, no one can tell what is going to happen next in Germany, Italy or Russia, and India until recently has been the scene of a series of riots and rebellions. It looks like what we need is another "War to End Wars."

Mexican students have banned jazz because it is American propaganda and its origin is "savage." Then again, it may be retaliation because we won't adopt bull baiting as a national pastime.

Mayor Jimmy Walker took 15,000 words to explain his fitness for the job. Probably he did not write it but no doubt he did read the statement, which, on his usual work schedule, should entitle him to another vacation.

And thus we come to Daylight Saving Time. D. S. T. was adopted as an efficiency means when efficiency was both popular and necessary. It continues because we are too inefficient to change back.

Maybe it's because I am a nationalist, but these visits of Oriental royalty merely remind me that it won't be long before the Japanese beetles are here.

Also the best way to spread the family in separate locations.

One movement I would agitate is for a comeback by the Athletics.

Desecrating the Landscape

The Wynnewood Civic Association has taken the lead in a movement which might well be extended to all other communities of the Main Line. That is the question of eliminating or at least reducing the number of "For Sale" and "For Rent" signs which constitute an eye-sore in the midst of otherwise charming communities.

The argument against extensive use of real estate brokers' signs is two fold: esthetic and practical. To consider the latter first: It is natural that people who wish to sell or lease property should avail themselves of every opportunity of so doing. But, as a communication of the Wynnewood Civic Association to its members stated, ". . . in a real estate market such as we have today the man who wants to sell his house is using the wrong psychology in covering his premises with sales boards. It is further felt that most any reputable real estate broker if he has his client's interest in mind, will advise him that in the present market 'indirect salesmanship' can accomplish a sale more readily than by broadcasting publicly a desire to sell."

From an esthetic standpoint, real estate signs are on the whole an unmitigated eye-sore. Often they represent but an effort of a broker to get his name before the public regardless of his client's best interests. As a rule such signs are much larger than is necessary to convey the information intended and anything but artistic.

The ideal situation, from the standpoint of appearance, would be to remove all sign boards and rely upon the efforts of the dealer to market properties. The next best solution is to have but one board, if it is considered so essential, instead of a clutter of two or three.

The real estate profession can add their share of balm to the situation, and, incidentally, help themselves, by striving to make signs which are smaller and less of an eye-sore. Some concerns, too few alas, have seen the writing on the wall and have produced small, tasteful signs which contrast most pleasantly with those of the billboard variety.

If all Main Line communities would co-operate in this movement, the result would be infinitely more attractive surroundings and the fostering of the feeling among outsiders that property values here are secure and living conditions desirable.

An Additional Safety Measure

The attention of the Motoring public is called by Superintendent Smith, of the Lower Merion Police, to the provisions in the State Motor Vehicle Code regarding automobiles following fire apparatus, parking within a restricted zone and the proper procedure at the approach of fire apparatus responding to an alarm.

The Code states: "Upon the approach of any Police or Fire Department vehicle or ambulance, giving audible signal, the driver of every other vehicle shall immediately drive the same to a position as near as possible, and parallel to, the right hand edge of the curb of a highway, clear of any intersection of highways, and shall stop and remain in such position, unless otherwise directed by a peace officer, until the Police or Fire Department vehicle or ambulance shall have passed."

"It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle, other than one on official business, to follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than five hundred (500) feet, or to drive into or park any vehicle within the block where the fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm."

Little Garden Days

The ninth annual Little Garden Day Sale on May 12 and 13, conducted by the Main Line Federation of Churches, provides an opportunity for gardeners to secure gardening supplies and at the same time help relieve distress in the section.

A representative Main Line affair with women from practically every community assisting, it is another example of the splendid work being done by the Federation of Churches to aid the less fortunate members of the Main Line communities.

In the Theater

Revivals rarely inspire us, but the George Tyler production of Sir James M. Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton," at the Broad Street Theatre, with Walter Hampden in the leading role, was exceedingly pleasing. Barrie's light and bright satire on the social caste system is entertaining. It is too bad that it is remaining only until tomorrow. Walter Hampden is always a splendid actor and though perhaps not so happily cast as the efficient butler, he gives an excellent performance. Fay Bainter and Estelle Winwood and Effie Shannon all portray their roles most ably.

The Theatre Guild brought "He" to the Garrick on Monday night as its last offering of the season. In many ways this play is disappointing, and if it does not offend one, it amuses. Tom Powers, Cecil Yapp, Claude Rains and Violet Kemble Cooper make the evening most entertaining by their finished performances.

"The Student Prince" also was revived on Monday night at the Shubert. Tuneful, it is still as pleasant as ever.

With little of the theatrical season remaining, Irene Bordoni in "One More Night" comes to the Forrest on Monday. "Singin' the Blues" departs on Saturday.

Max Gordon, who opened the highly-successful "Three's a Crowd" in Philadelphia last fall, will present Fred and Adele Astaire, Frank Morgan, Helen Broderick and Tilly Losch in "The Band Wagon," a new revue which will be the attraction at the Garrick Theatre beginning Monday, May 11.

"The Band Wagon" is the work of George S. Kaufman, Howard Dietz and Arthur Schwartz. Mr. Kaufman wrote "Animal Crackers" and "The Cocoanuts," two musical plays in which the Marx Brothers cavorted, and is also known as the co-author of "Once in a Lifetime," "June Moon," "The Royal Family" and many other comedy hits.

Howard Dietz was largely responsible for "Three's a Crowd," having written many of the sketches and lyrics in that revue, as well as compiling all of the material. He also contributed material to the first "Little Show." The score of "The Band Wagon" has been composed by Arthur Schwartz, who wrote many of the songs in "Three's a Crowd," including the haunting "Give Me Something to Remember You By."

The five stars of "The Band Wagon" need but little introduction to theatre-goers. Fred and Adele Astaire were starred in "Smiles," "Funny Face" and "Lady, Be Good." Frank Morgan was seen in Philadelphia recently as the star of "Topaze," in which he appeared for more than a year, in New York and on tour.

Hedegrow's Program

Following its policy of giving only three performances a week during the early part of the season, the Hedegrow Theatre will inaugurate its series for the week of May 4 with the performance of Musselman's "Merry-Go-Round" on Thursday evening, May 7. This company of theatrical life as seen through the small end of a stock company is cast with most of the Hedegrow company, including Jasper Deeter in the role of the director. On Friday night Eugene O'Neill's study of the effect of superior superstition on more elementary minds, "The Emperor Jones" will be acted with Wayland Rudd in the title role and Jasper Deeter as the shrewd but cowardly trader Smithers, who is directly responsible for Jones' ultimate failure. This play will have its first performance of the season tomorrow night.

For its first showing of the season, Shakespeare's intense "Othello," which is in many respects a holocaust of conflicting emotions, will be given with Wayland Rudd in the title role; Isobel Murdoch as the too-innocent Desdemona; Ferd Nofer as Iago, and Dudley Vaughan as Emilia. This is, essentially, the cast which participated in the initial performance of the play at last year's birthday part of the theatre.

Local Movies

Narberth Theatre Notes

Gary Cooper, Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall give good performances in Zane Grey's "Fighting Caravans," at Narberth this Friday and Saturday.

"Millie," at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday, is adapted from a fast-selling novel of the same name, and is offered by Radio Pictures as a "drama for every woman who ever loved a home and babies..." In its cast are Helen Twelvetrees, Lilyan Tashman, Robert Ames and John Halliday. On the same program is a "Music Master" series feature: "Beethoven," giving the life and some of the music of the great music master.

"Hell's Angels," at Narberth Wednesday and Thursday, is Howard Hughes' really amazing and spectacular $4,000,000 spectacle of war and aviation. Half of the picture's cost was due to the thrilling air fights which were realistically staged in its making, which took nearly three years. Among those in the cast are Ben Lyon, James Hall and Jean Harlow.

At Narberth next Friday and Saturday will be the touching, dramatic "East Lynne," which has won acclaim everywhere shown. Among those in its star cast are Ann Harding herself and Clive Brook and Conrad Nagel. Settings are by Joseph Urban and Frank Lloyd directed it.

At the Egyptian

"It Pays to Advertise," at Cynwyd's theatre this Friday and Saturday, is a diverting tale of soap and clever advertising, featuring Skeets Gallagher, Eugene Palette, Carole Lombard and Norman Foster.

At the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday will be "The Painted Desert," in which Bill Boyd, William Farnum and Helen Twelvetrees give convincing characterizations. It is colorful, dramatic and quite a bit thrilling; described as an epic picture of the mysterious Dinosaur Canyon in Arizona.

Whether caveman tactics are an aid to marital happiness is told in "Free Love," playing at the Egyptian next Wednesday and Thursday. The cast in this amusing farce includes Genevieve Tobin, Conrad Nagel and Zasu Pitts.

Cinema's thrilling reproduction of an eerie stage hit, "Dracula," is coming to Cynwyd next week-end. Not guaranteed as a cure for insomnia. Cast includes Bela Lugosi, David Manners and Helen Chandler. At next Saturday's matinee a picture more suited for boys and girls will be substituted. Also on the week-end program will be another Johnny Farrell golf picture, "Winning Putts," a "Mickey Mouse" comedy and an "Our Gang" comedy featuring Jackie Cooper, star of the "Skippy" masterpiece, which, by the way, is coming to Cynwyd before long.

Lower Merion Boy, Herb Thomas, Wins Fame By Pitching No-Hit, No-Run Game

By W. A. MACAN, Jr.
By pitching a no-run, no-hit game against Chester High School last Saturday, another boy has risen from the ranks and may claim his place among the greatest of Lower Merion's athletes. He is Herbert E. Thomas, of Bala, famed pitcher of the high school nine. This game was the first of its kind this season in Philadelphia and Suburban Philadelphia Inter-scholastic Leagues.

When asked how it felt to be the hero of a game such as all pitchers dream of but few realize, Herb Thomas was modestly itself.

"Any pitcher could have done the same thing," he said with a deprecating smile, "had he received the marvelous support offered me by the entire team. Of course, I am happy to have pitched a no-run, no-hit game, but I fully realize that I could not have accomplished it without the perfect playing of the other fellows of the team."

In speaking of the recent appointment of Bill Anderson, Lower Merion's famed and popular basketball coach, as the baseball coach, Herb stated, "I know that the whole team is in back of me when I say that, although we regret Mr. Cocklin's resignation as our adviser, we will support 'Andy' to the best of our ability, and we know that he will do the same for us. And right here, I think that I should state that all of the members realize that our coach deserves as much credit of our victory as do the players."

Herb lives at 109 Upland Terrace, Bala, and it was in this neighborhood that he began his baseball training with a team composed of his former classmates at Bala School.

However, it was not until he arrived at Lower Merion Junior High School that his real worth was recognized. During his two years there he began to pitch under the tutelage of George Glass and Elmer Unger. In his second year Herb captained the Junior High School baseball team through a very successful season, and, in recognition for his services, he was awarded the baseball letter.

But baseball was by no means his only activity in the Junior High School. Herb also distinguished himself in football and basketball. His athletic record was such a clean and outstanding one that he was one of two boys who were awarded the cup for being the best boy athlete of the school.

When he entered the Senior High School, Herb continued to make an excellent name for himself in both civic and athletic activities. He is vice president of his class for the second successive year, and he is president and a leading performer of the Boys' Glee Club. As treasurer, Herb has become an outstanding member of the Student Council and is active in the Boys' Hi-Y.

Also, his athletic record, excluding baseball in the high school should not be overlooked. Following the same sports in which he participated in the Junior High School, Herb has shown up well in both football and basketball.

But in baseball his record is surpassing. And this is natural as he admits that of all athletics, baseball is his greatest love. During the past two years he has had excellent opportunities to improve his skill under his coaches, Warren Cocklin and William Anderson, and, after his apprenticeship in Junior High School baseball, he has been able to turn his newly-acquired knowledge to the best advantage.

His baseball experience has not been limited to school teams, but has extended into another league. Last season, Herb played left-field for the Cynwyd firemen, who won the championship of the Piemen-Police League of Lower Merion and Narberth.

Herb is a member of the junior class and so has another year of activity. His plans after graduation are uncertain. However, he has his hopes centered on a position in the sporting world either as a professional baseball player or as a coach.

But no matter what fame may be his in the coming years and no matter what other accomplishments are before him in the coming year, Lower Merion High School will always remember him as the boy who, in the spring of 1931, pitched a no-run, no-hit game for his school team.

'TIME OUT'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

I once saw a young lady forget her lines at commencement exercises. The house was packed. It was at a girls' college way down South, and mother and father and all the kinfolks were there. The young lady was embarrassed, but she stamped her little foot and she stood right there on the stage until the lines came back, and, with her face all red, she concluded the speech in a grand and glorious manner. This young woman was given an ovation that was due her as she took her seat.

I was reminded of this last Friday, when a quartet of boys, representing the best of Lower Merion's young manhood, forgot the lines in another manner at the Penn Relays, but with heads held high and hearts beating like trip-hammers, finished the race and were almost rewarded with a spectacular victory. Harvey Buck, Arthur Kohler, Bob Mathes and Sam Graham were the boys who ran for the Junior High School, and to me it was a tragedy as the first named lost the baton on the first curve and forty precious yards of distance with it. There I stood, swearing like a top sergeant, but I soon forgot the words, for there were the boys still running, trying with all they had to make up the lost ground. My! What a race they ran. Only a couple of yards separated Captain Sammy Graham from the winner at the finish line.

The papers will never tell that Lower Merion dropped the baton, and if they had not they were sure to have set a new record. No, they only state the name of the winner. But indelibly impressed in the hearts of those who saw the race was the grand manner in which those boys took up the burden and gave the extra effort to make up for what was lost. I was proud of those boys, first, because I am deeply interested in them, and secondly, because they completed their job with a poise and determination that would be a credit to older men.

Dads, if you want to tackle your business problems with renewed vigor, go out and watch those youngsters pull a race against odds.

Albert Adam's relay team pulled a surprise by beating Southern Saturday afternoon. Southern set a record on Friday, and everybody expected them to walk away with the race on Saturday, but Rockwell, Meeks, Taylor and Buck thought differently.

Lower Merion's golf team won from Upper Darby High and lost to Haverford High. Jenkintown High School is their opponent today, and, according to "Slim," they are in for a good trouncing. Jenkintown is supposed to have the strongest team around Philadelphia.

Junior High won the first baseball game of the season against Upper Merion last Monday afternoon on Pennypacker Field, 7 to 6. The boys need lots of work to get in good baseball form, but they work hard and were rewarded for their efforts with a victory.

The high school championship basketball team had a nice little party thrown for them at Green Hill Farms Hotel Thursday night.

Lower Merion Quartet Wins at Penn Relays

A richer color flowed in the Maroon banner of Lower Merion last Saturday at the Penn Relays when the gritty four representing the Main Line school outran Southern High School of Philadelphia in the mile relay to win in what many considered an upset.

On Friday afternoon Southern set a new record among city schools at the relays by tripping around in the fast time of 3:33. They could not keep this up on Saturday, however, and Buek, the Lower Merion anchor man, spurred ahead to win by a few inches. The time was 3:36, not particularly fast, but sufficient to win, and a very pleasing victory, too, for the team, consisting of Rockwell, Meeks, Taylor and Buek, lost to Collingswood, New Jersey, the day before. Many spectators placed the blame for the loss on Friday to Buek, but the truth of the matter is the boys were up against a faster team. Buek ran the second fastest time in this race, Rockwell doing his quarter a fraction of a second faster. No blame can be cast at the relay team for they did well.

The Junior High for the second time in eight years had what may be called a tough break. Harvey Buek, lead-off man for the Hutton-coached boys, had the misfortune to have the baton knocked from his hands as he made the first turn abreast of Radnor in the lead. By the time Harvey recovered the baton, the entire field was out in front and Lower Merion was 40 yards behind the leading runner. Buek passed the baton to Arthur Kohler. This speedy boy from Ardmore carried the stick to Bob Matheys, and he to the anchor man, Sam Graham. These three boys ran the prettiest race that was seen on Franklin Field that afternoon, including any that the colleges ran. When Graham crossed the finish line he was right behind the winner, Upper Darby. It was a thrill to watch these boys cut down that forty yards lost at the beginning of the race. Another twenty yards to run and the Orange and Black would have had another victory at the relays. It was too bad, for Hutton has a faster team than the one that broke the record last year.

The boys have three opportunities to redeem themselves, if redeeming is necessary. They go to Bethlehem tomorrow, where they will compete in a quarter-mile relay and a half-mile relay.

L. M. Wins Two, Loses One in Week's Games

Lower Merion's '31 edition baseball team played according to tradition on Tuesday afternoon when they handed Abington High a ball game, 6 to 5. A miscue at first in the fourth inning gave the visitors one run, and then Lefty Thomas, after pitching one of his fine games, tired and threw the game away in the ninth after he had retired the first man on a fly to the outfield.

Lefty walked two men in a row and hit the third. After a second out was made two solid hits brought in the winning run. The Maroon filled the bases in the ninth with only one out, but a double play ended the game on a perfect peg home from the outfield.

The hitting of the local nine was good, especially in the pinch by Rose, Rinehart, Thomas and Campbell. This is the second time the boys have lost in the ninth after possessing a good lead, and there was no excuse for it. Lower Merion should now be leading the league with no losses, but such is only a dream, not a reality.

But there is good news to write about, and probably it overshadows the sad. The boys behind fine pitching defeated Chester and Friends' Central on Friday and Monday, respectively. Herb Thomas pitched the first no-hit, no-run game twirled on local diamond since Derry Fuller turned in a perfect exhibition six years ago against Gloucester City, New Jersey. The team hit well behind Thomas and romped away to a 10-to-0 verdict. On Monday Odiorne, a right-hander, held Friends' Central to five hits and the boys brought home another victory, 8 to 2.

Bill Anderson has a nice ball club, one that tries hard and will turn in a fair share of victories. A bit of real inside baseball can be taught the team, and if a few more fundamentals of the game are drilled into them, there will not be a team in the suburbs that can touch them.

Timely Notes for the Main Line Garden Lover

By Robert J. Edgar

May first marks the real beginning of the summer season in the garden. No more danger of frost. Coverings removed from roses. Tender annuals planted out and much longer days of sunshine. Daylight saving also helps the gardener.

Cold weather of the past week has helped to equalize the season and a fair rainfall has aided a little. Warmer days are sure to follow.

Gladiolus bulbs are planted during the month of May by those who want to harvest a good crop of mature bulbs for next season. May planted bulbs will flower in August and there will be ample time before frost to mature next year's bulbs, provided the flowering stem only, and not the foliage, is removed. This is true of any bulbous plant, the slowly drying foliage ripens next year's bulb.

The flowering time of gladiolus varies from 70 to 115 days, the average being about 90 days. June planting will give flowers in September, but the bulbs will not ripen like those planted in May. Smaller bulbs will flower later than full size bulbs.

The gladiolus is one of the most satisfactory of cut flowers; it only needs fair soil, sunshine and normal rainfall and should be planted about 4 inches deep. While some gardeners prefer the large flowering types many select the smaller and more graceful primulinus hybrids which mature in about 70 days.

Delphiniums are the glory of the mid-June garden, or the glory of any garden, and deserve the careful attention needed for their well-being. Their major requirements are clean alkaline soil and good drainage with full sun and staking. Clean soil means without manure, unless it be very old and at least a foot below the surface. Alkaline soil means with pulverized limestone worked thoroughly to a depth of 18 inches. Good drainage means the bed should be higher than the surrounding soil and there should be no low places where water may lie; it also means good sub-soil drainage so that water may drain away readily. The soil may be clay, well broken up with plenty of humus, a little sand, and plenty of limestone—and no peat moss. Use one part of fine bone and two parts of wood ashes for fertilizer and do not place the wood ashes too near the plant. These fertilizers are both alkaline in reaction.

Delphiniums are easily grown from seed, good, fresh seed; they require twenty days to germinate and must be carefully handled. They resent disturbance and the seedlings out of the seed row should be placed in pots as soon as the true leaves are well formed. Kept shaded under lath for a time, they may be set out to flower in the border from the pots without knowing that they have been moved. Madonna lilies make most excellent companions. This is one of the few lilies that will do well in alkaline soil.

Hardy Perennials

By W. O. Hird

The perennial border is now an established feature in the home ground.

Care should be exercised in preparing a new border. The bed should be dug about 12 or 15 inches deep and a liberal quantity of plant food thoroughly worked in, as the perennials are gross feeders and require plenty of food. For best results three plants of a variety should be grouped together and the planting should be arranged according to the different heights and colors. Perennial beds should be kept well cultivated at all times.

Among the taller varieties are the Delphiniums in their various shades of blue, Heleniums, Hollyhocks, Aconitum, Anchusa, Rudbeckia, Artemisa, Eupatorium, Hardy Sunflowers and Valerina. All these varieties should be planted in the background.

The medium tall varieties include Phlox, Foxglove, Campanula, Oriental Poppy, Gypsophila, Hardy Asters, Chrysanthemums, Gaillardia, Coreopsis, Aquilegia, Lychnis, Achillia, Anemone and Veronica. For edging the border Phlox, Subulata and Canacensis, Arabis, Yellow Alyssum, Cereus, Armeria, Aubretia, the various varieties of Dianthus, Geum, Heuchera, Primula, Sedum and Forget-me-not are among the choicest varieties.

No perennial garden is complete without Lilies. These may be planted successfully in the spring. The principal varieties are Liliun Auratum (the Golden Banded Lily), Speciosum Rubrum, Speciosum Album, Tigrinum and the Regale, or Royal Lily. Lilies require a well-drained soil and, when planted, should have a handful of sand placed under each bulb to insure perfect drainage.

Feeding Trees at Valley Forge

Spray Trees at Once to Control Pests

The early bird gets the worm. The early worm gets the leaf. The early spray also gets the worm. The early man gets the sprayer.

A considerable degree of protection from insect depredations may be obtained by encouraging birds. They are not only useful, but add greatly to the charm of a garden. This is especially true in early spring when song and nesting activities are dominant and the comparatively open conditions of the trees are favorable to observation. Birds like a variety of trees and shrubs and those bearing fruit in the winter, such as spruce, hemlock, birch and larch, attract birds during the cool season.

It is true that the early worm gets the leaf. Many of our leaf-destroying insects have learned to relish the tender green leaves of the early spring. The case bearers of the elm and larch, for example, winter as partly-grown caterpillars in their curious shelters. The apple tent caterpillars actually winter as fully developed caterpillars within the eggs. They hatch with the earliest warm weather and compete with others for their share of the new foliage. Both fall canker worms and spring canker worms, extremely common pests in southeastern New York and adjacent New England areas, begin feeding as soon as the least bit of green is evident. There have been cases where canker worms hung from the trees in such numbers as to make walking beneath very trying to the nerves. Even a sunshade with a fringe of dangling worms is not entirely satisfactory. This will be a canker worm year in some localities. The oak leaf rollers are frequently so numerous as to destroy all of the young leaves. This brings about a condition favorable for that deadly enemy of the oak, known as the two-lined chestnut borer.

The early spray gets the worm. There is no more satisfactory way of controlling these pests than by spraying just as the leaves are starting. It only requires a few mouthfuls of poisoned foliage to kill the pests. A start on such a diet is a most effective check upon further feeding. Generally speaking, it is entirely feasible to prevent material foliage injury to shade and ornamental trees. A repetition of injury may be expected the coming season in regions where these and other early leaf feeders were abundant last year.

The early man gets the sprayer. There are not and never will be enough spraying outfits to do all the spraying advisable at the very best time. The individual who desires the most satisfactory protection for his trees should provide early for the work. Anticipate the early worm. Feed it poison early, a time when the pangs of hunger following a winter fast call urgently for relief. The early worm too frequently escapes the early bird. There is real need of the early spray.

College Plans to Broadcast
M. Carey Thomas Award

A nationwide hook-up of an hour and a quarter will broadcast the ceremonies at which the M. Carey Thomas Prize Award will be conferred upon Jane Addams by Bryn Mawr College tomorrow afternoon. The broadcast from three to four-fifteen will be over WJZ and associated stations and will be the first ever made from Bryn Mawr College.

More than one thousand distinguished visitors are expected at the ceremony and seats in Goodhart Hall, where the presentation will be made, are being allotted rapidly. Both President Marion Edwards Park and Dr. M. Carey Thomas, president emerita, will entertain many of the visitors at tea which will follow the ceremonies. A tribute to Miss Addams from Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, will be read by President Park as part of the program which will number among its speakers the distinguished names of Dr. John Dewey, Professor of Philosophy at Columbia University; Miss Grace Abbott, Chief of the Federal Children's Bureau; Miss Frances Perkins, Industrial Commissioner of the New York State Department of Labor, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, sometime president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association and sometime president of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance. The letter from Mr. MacDonald to Dr. Park was received this week and is in the Prime Minister's own hand.

The M. Carey Thomas Prize of the value of $5000 is awarded at intervals to an American woman in recognition of eminent achievement. The Alumnae Association of Bryn Mawr College in 1922 raised the sum of $25,000 in honor of President M. Carey Thomas to found the award. The prize was given for the first time in June, 1922, to Dr. M. Carey Thomas and is being awarded this year for the second time.

Arsenate of Lead will kill the beetle grub, all right—and domestic animals, too—unless the powder is mixed with Hyper Humus when it is spread on the ground. The H. H. absorbs it, and is not liked by dogs, cats, etc.

Mix five pounds arsenate of lead (costing $1.75) with 200 pounds of Hyper Humus (costing $5) for 1000 square feet of lawn, and the mixture will kill beetles—and at the same time make things grow by improving the soil—for a year-and-a-half to two years. We guarantee it.

Nine persons fled from their homes in their nightclothes when fire damaged the home of John Santerelli, of 243 Woodbine Avenue, Narberth, at 5:30 A. M. last Friday.

Santerelli was awakened when smoke filled his bedroom. With his wife, Claressa, he aroused his daughter, Claressa; a nephew, Joseph Santerelli, and two nieces, Clara Delucci and her sister, Camilla.

Smoke filled two adjoining houses. At 245 Woodbine Avenue, Edward White fled with his wife, Flora. In 241 Woodbine Avenue, Luciana Rucchiengo helped his wife, Grace, to the street. Firemen confined the flames to the living room in the Santerelli home. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

L. M. High School News

Year Book Being Printed.

The annual year book of the Senior Class has been completed and has been sent to press. Under the able direction of Margaret M. Major, faculty adviser, this year's book appears to be one of the finest. Also, a literary section is a new addition to this year's book, and it is composed of the best works of English composition of each class. A new system of arranging the pictures of each senior has improved the appearance of this section of the book decidedly.

There still remain ten copies of both the leather and leatherette bound editions to be sold, but it is certain that even these will not remain unsold long. Anyone desiring to purchase one of these may do so by placing his order with Miss Margaret Major or Bill McGarvey at the High School.

L. M. Tennis Team Victorious

At the Narberth Tennis Club the Lower Merion tennis team won a match from that of St. Joseph Prep by a score of 4-3. This was the first match of the season for Lower Merion and the team showed up well in competition. Hunter Lott did his share in leading his team to victory by beating Young, of St. Joseph's, in three hard sets. The other winners from Lower Merion were: John Eaton from Ryan, 2-0; Bob McConaghy from Dunn, 2-0, and Connie Wickham and Eddie Moore from Dunn and Ryan, 3-2, in the second doubles. Charles Lueders lost a hard-fought singles match and Horace Dolan and Arthur LeCour lost the first doubles match.

Extensive Program Planned for Boy Week

Parade and Athletic Contests on May 9 at Radnor High
Is Feature.

CRIPPLED BOYS GUESTS

An extensive program has been planned for Boy Week on the Main Line which opens Monday and continues to Saturday, May 9. A parade and celebration at Wayne, which will act as host this year, will wind up the activities on Saturday.

One of the outstanding features of the program is the provision for the entertainment of crippled Main Line boys, which has been arranged through the Main Line Kiwanis Club. Arrangements have been made for free admission to Keith's Theatre and to the Athletics' ball park during Boy Week for all boys so crippled as to be unable to participate in the regular activities.

Preparations are being made to insure a gala day for the 700 or more youths expected to take part in a parade and in the athletic contests and celebration which will follow.

Besides the athletic events there will be bugle, harmonica, hobby, marbles and other contests for which prizes will be awarded. The exhibition of hobbies promises to be especially interesting this year, according to C. Walton Hale, secretary-treasurer, for those in charge of this event have been busy collecting specimens of work from boys in their localities to exhibit at the competition in Wayne.

All communities from Overbrook to Malvern will be represented in the athletic events.

The parade will form Saturday at 10 A. M. at the Wayne P. R. R. station and march along the Lincoln Highway through the Wayne business district and on to the grounds of the Radnor High School, where the field events will be held and a picnic dinner will be served.

The officers of the Main Line Boy Council include William A. Johnson, Wayne, president; George B. Matthews, Ardmore; Frank A. McGrady, Bryn Mawr; Philip W. Hunt, Wayne; F. Goss, West Manayunk; W. B. Richards, Bala-Cynwyd; Walton M. Wentz, Narberth, and Richard Crout, Gladwyne, vice presidents; C. Walton Hale, Wayne, secretary and treasurer, and Henry L. Reinhold, Jr., Ardmore, chairman of the Finance Committee.

T. Wilson Adler Dies at Daughter's Home Here

Funeral services will be held today at 2 o'clock at the Oliver H. Bair Building, 1820 Chestnut Street, for T. Wilson Adler, 65, Councilman and justice of the peace at Island Heights, N. J., who died Tuesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wilson H. DeFord, of Narberth. Formerly president of the Brown Packing Company, Mr. Adler was also known in the oil industry when he was associated with Loos & Dilworth, Inc., manufacturers of oils and naval stores.

He was a thirty-second-degree Mason, a member of the Philadelphia Chapter, F. and A. M., No. 72, the Oriental R. H. Chapter, No. 183, and the Mary Commandery Lu Lu Temple. He was president of the Prestonville Building and Loan Association and treasurer of the Island Heights Yacht Club. He maintained his membership in the Grace Protestant Episcopal Church of Philadelphia. In addition to his daughter, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Estelle Matthews Adler, and a brother, Dr. Lewis H. Adler.

Hold Successful Bridge

The Welfare Department held a very successful bridge party at the home of Mrs. Caryl E. Starr, chairman of the committee, on Monday afternoon at her home on Merion Avenue. There were twenty-one guests present.

Will Dr. Doolittle Appear at Banquet?

one might even be able to break out of jail.

Chief Coach Harman was announced in last week's "Our Town" as the headliner, along with a galaxy of other stars, for this much-looked-forward-to event which is to be so unique in many ways.

The committee announces that at exactly one minute after 6 o'clock the schedule of fun-features will begin. The evening is to be so full that a rapid schedule must be maintained, because of which the very little boys who must be in bed early and some of the older boys who simply don't dare cancel their dates are assured of a great time even if they must depart right after dinner. All others of course will stay for hours, and some will probably come back after "dates."

It is unfortunate that space will not permit listing all of the great variety of entertainments and contests that are to make this banquet such a lively affair. Every boy who comes with a man, whether his father or not, and every man who can come with a son, regardless of whose son it is, will be heartily welcome. It is thought that well over a hundred have already made arrangements to be on hand.

Borough Nine to Face Jack Hart's Collegians

Rubican, both of whom saw considerable service last year. Harvey Humphries, veteran third sacker, has decided this year to try his hand behind the bat and will probably assist Ray Young in the catching duties. Reynolds, McKee and Graham are on hand again this year as pitchers, but Gene is looking for one more good hurler to complete his staff. Vernon Fleck, the veteran of 20 Main Line campaigns, who was the club's leading hitter last year, will probably be seen at his old post in left field, and Merritt Heckel, another fine outfielder, will no doubt fill the center field post. For the other outfield post Gene will have to choose between Bob Martin, Harold Thomas, Dick Blessing and Pete Richards, the former Swarthmore College star, who is now a resident of the borough. Altogether Manager Davis is well pleased with this array of talent and confidently expects to put an even stronger team than last year's in the field.

The other Main Line clubs have also strengthened their lineups and the local fans should see a first class race for the title this season.

Room, in the Community Building. A large attendance is expected and every one interested is cordially invited to attend. Tickets may be had from any Junior Club member, or through the Chairman from the Senior Club, Mrs. B. F. Keenan.

At the meeting of May 14, the girls will entertain their mothers in observance of Mother's day. Several interesting items have been planned for the program, among them a short sketch by four members of the Club. Mothers must be sure to keep the date!
